

The King is Dead. Long Live the King!

A SONG FOR NEW YEAR'S.
There is a monarch, weird and old,
Whose magic touch all men must feel;
None but he may his sceptre hold,
None but he may set his seal:
Over every land and clime
Swayeth the sceptre of Old King Time.
There is a monarch, young and fair,
Jocund and merry, and blithe to see;
None, with him, may in youth compare,
Strong, with the strongest, who but he?
Over every land and clime
Swayeth the sceptre of Young King Time.
Up to the gate of the closing year
Creepeth the monarch, gray and old;
Out, in an instant, with hearty cheer,
Cometh the monarch young and bold:
And the bells from a thousand steeples ring,
The king is dead—Long live the king!
This monarch a double budget bears:
Half is filled with reverend lore,
The tale of the ancient fears and cares,
The map of the road he has travell'd o'er.
To men of every land and clime
Shows he this record, Old King Time.
The other half of his double pack
Is filled with youth, and love, and hope,
That the wise man trust may never lack,
With all the ills of life to cope,
To men of every land and clime
Giveth he courage, Young King Time.
In the lore of the old let wisdom choose,
In the life of the new our nerves be strong,
That we may the double blessings use
Of this weird monarch, old and young:
While the bells from a thousand steeples ring,
The king is dead—Long live the king!

GENERAL GRANT IN A HORSE TRADE.
—A few Congressmen on the train to day entered into a conversation about the merits of different generals in our army, in the course of which one of them told the following story about General Grant: "I knew Ulysses Grant when he was a little boy. We used to go to school together, near Georgetown, Brown county, Ohio. The boys used to plague him dreadfully about a horse trade he once made. When he was about twelve years old, his father sent him a few miles into the country to buy a horse from a man named Ralston. The old man told Ulysses to offer Ralston fifty dollars at first; if he wouldn't take that, to offer fifty-five dollars, and to go as high as sixty dollars, if no less would make the purchase. The embryotic major general started off with these instructions fully impressed upon his mind. He called upon Mr. Ralston, and told him he wished to buy the horse.
"How much did your father tell you to give for him?" was a very natural inquiry from the owner of the steed.
"Why," said Ulysses, "he told me to offer you fifty dollars, and if that wouldn't do, to give you fifty-five dollars, and if you wouldn't take less than sixty dollars, to give you that."
"Of course, sixty dollars was the lowest figure, and, on payment of that amount, the animal became the property of the young Napoleon."

HAD HIM THERE.—Watty Morrison, a Scotch clergyman, was a man of great wit and humor. On a certain occasion, he entreated an officer to pardon a man who had been sent to the halbert. The officer offered to grant his request if he would in return grant him the first favor he would ask. Mr. M. agreed to this, and the officer immediately demanded that the ceremony of baptism should be performed on a puppy. The clergyman agreed to it, and a party of gentlemen assembled to witness the novel baptism. Mr. Morrison desired the officer to hold up the dog, as was necessary in the baptism of children, and said:
"As I am a Minister of Scotland I must proceed according to the ceremonies of the church."
"Certainly," said the Major, "I want all the ceremony."
"Well, then, Major, I begin with the question—do you acknowledge yourself to be the father of this puppy?"
A roar of laughter burst from the crowd, and the officer threw the candidate for baptism away.

A SNAKE STORY.—"During the Florida war," said the speaker, "I was in the American army. One day I shouldered my gun and went in search of game. In passing through a swamp I saw something a few feet ahead of me, lying upon the ground, which had every appearance of a log, it being some forty feet in length, and about a foot in diameter. So positive was I that I saw nothing but a log that I paid no attention to it; the fact is, I would have sworn before a court of justice that it was a log, and nothing else. You see I never heard of snakes growing to such huge dimensions, and the fact is, I never should have believed it if I had. Well, between me and the log as I took it to be, was a miry place, which it was necessary for me to avoid. I therefore placed the butt of my gun on the ground before me, and, springing upon it, lit right on top of—what do you suppose?"
"A boa constrictor," said one.
"No."
"What then?"
"Just what I supposed it was—a log," said the wag.

A CARD.— WITMER'S BRIDGE, Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1860. MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam B. Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement of the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your safe than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL RANCE.
[1863] A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at as low rates as any other firm, at EVANS & WATSON'S, No. 16 South Fourth st., Philadelphia.
1863. TINWARE! 1863. SHEET-IRON WARE. COPPER WARE
J. & H. HERRINGTON
Desire to call the attention of the public to their new TIN SHOP now open in the large brick building on the corner of Main and Franklin streets opposite the Mansion House and next to the Banking house of Bell, Smith & Co., Johnstown Pa., where they purchase manufacturing all kinds of TIN, SHEET-IRON AND COPPER WARE. Their work will be made by the best workmen and of the best materials. They are determined to sell all kinds of ware at the cheapest rates, wholesale and retail.
P. S.—All orders for SPOUTING attended to on the shortest notice and on reasonable terms.
